Press Release

New FREE online help service launched for NHS managers to advise on the Annual Health Check

Entier, a business and change management consultancy that specialises in the healthcare sector, has launched a new FREE online service to help NHS managers handle their Annual Health Check.

The online service is offering users who register on the Entier website the opportunity to download a FREE Tool Kit that guides them through the Annual Health Check process in a simple and straightforward way. This is the first phase of a series of guides, tips and hints on all aspects of the Annual Health Check. It starts with Core Standards and will follow on with advice on Improvement reviews and financial management.

Many people in the NHS have found the new Annual Health Check system from the Healthcare Commission to be time consuming and difficult to follow. Entier's service is designed to take the complexity out of the process and offer a simple step by step guide to completing and returning the declaration of compliance.

Alex Alexander, senior director with Entier, said. "We believe that there is a market for this type of advice because many NHS Trusts are struggling to come to terms with the new system. Our FREE online tool will help them through the process, but of course the underlying issue is how are they organising themselves to ensure that their operation works with integrated governance and is mapped to the Core and Developmental standards. Often Trusts need help in reconfiguring services or organising their delivery plans in a different way, and we can help with this work."
